Some "Gave Cheerfully," According to the Book

Doheny's Campaign "Taxes" Vary in Size

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—It seems a little difficult for the Democratic national committee to get the facts of Mr. Doheny's several campaign contributions on straight. The reports filed by the committee with the clerk of the house of representatives under the law show that he contributed only $9900 in 1920 to elect Mr. Cox. But Mr. Doheny, testifying under oath before the Senate public lands committee, stated he contributed $50,000 to the Democratic campaign fund in 1920.

According to reports filed by the committee with the clerk of the house of representatives, Mr. Doheny contributed only $25,000 to the Democratic campaign fund in 1916 to elect Mr. Wilson. Mr. Henry Morgenthau, who, it appears, was associated with the Democratic committee of 1916, having charge of the solicitation of funds, recently published a book entitled "All in a Lifetime." In describing his experiences collecting funds for the campaign in 1916, on page 242 of his book, he says: "Some gave cheerfully out of their abundance, as did Edward L. Doheny, whom I personally solicited, and who contributed $50,000."

It would seem that the discrepancies between what Mr. Doheny contributed to the Democratic committee and what they reported under the law are so great and so well substantiated to disprove them as being "clerical errors."

Had Good Call

A. T. Stanley, the well known bookman, who fell from the left side of his fourth street shop, landing on his head on the cement floor below, after a long struggle, is reported recovering and will soon be on the street again. His West Macdonald friends will be glad to hear of his recovery and hope there will be no ill-effects from his recent fall.

STAR SPANGLED BANNER ROCKS

Announcement of the discovery of a new star—the densest known to astronomy—by Dr. Frank O. Johnson of the Allegheny observatory, Pittsburgh, Pa., is made in the Popular Science Monthly. The new star is called a variable star, consisting of two celestial bodies revolving about each other. The stars eclipse each other twice in a complete revolution which requires about 170 minutes. Astronomical tests show the substance composing the bodies to be denser than the surface rocks of the earth. The star can be seen only through an exceptionally powerful telescope.

OF COURSE HE KNEW

The teacher was examining her class in what she considered the rudiments of history. "Yes, William," she exclaimed, pointing to a small, freckled-faced boy, "tell me where Elizabeth was crowned queen."

IN THE OLD SOUTH

The story is told of a Virginian who stayed out until 8 o'clock in the morning. His wife objected. He said he wasn't out as late as she thought he was. She declared she had heard the clock strike. "What?" said the Virginian, "you'll take the word of a Yankee clock before mine?"

Senator Wm. E. Borah May Get Cabinet Position

Washington, Feb. 29.—Senator William E. Borah, Idaho, is to succeed Harry M. Daugherty as attorney general if the latter is eliminated from the cabinet, according to gossip in usually well informed circles here.

Borah has taken a leading part in urging Coolidge to ask for Daugherty's resignation. He said today that no one ever suggested to him that he be given Daugherty's post.

McAdoo "Gets the Money"

Los Angeles, Feb. 29.—Wm. G. McAdoo, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, says he has no apology to offer for accepting large fees for services rendered clients. He admitted that his firm had received $150,000 for defending the Republic Iron & Steel Co. at Youngstown, Ohio, in a tax case.

Political Paragraphs

Those democrats who believe in a "revenue" tariff should be satisfied with the Fordney-McCumber law. It produced about $200,000,000 more revenue than their own law in one year.

"None of your business," says Mr. Bok to the Senate investigating committee. Mr. Bok, it will be recalled, is angel to the dove of peace.

We admit that much of our hope of democratic victory this year is based upon the possibility of our ticket receiving millions of votes of people who are not as well acquainted with our democratic leaders as we are.—Houston Post.

The main question puzzling many democrats is: "Will McAdoo do?" There seems to be some doubt about it.

In giving out cuts from the oil pie counter, there was much difference in the size of the pieces. George Creel, it is reported, only received $5000. Mr. Doheny probably determined "values" by services rendered.

After W. G. McAdoo has satisfactorily explained his connection with the oil interests and how he earned the big salary paid him, will he then kindly explain why he needlessly expended millions of dollars as director of the railways by having his name printed on each piece of stationery and printed supplies on hand when he took over the work.

PEACE IN THE HOME

"Did you hear about the awful trouble that has befallen Mrs. Talks?"

"Don't tell me she has lost her voice."

"No, her husband has lost his hearing."

REMYOT COURTEOUS

She—I heard you singing in your room this morning.

He—Oh, I sing a little to kill time.

"You have a good weapon?"

HABIT IS STRONG

"Ah, your son has fine manners! He has opened the gate for us."

"That's nothing, miss. He does that for the cow every morning."

A RECORD RUN

Actor—I played "Hamlet" once. His friend—Indeed! Did you have much of a run?

"About six miles."

When in Auto Trouble Call For First Aid

If you are a member of the California State Automobile association a telephone call to the nearest mechanical station or to the club will bring a first aid or towing car, along with a mechanic, to your assistance. The service will be in operation March 15, and will be exclusively for first aid only.

Former Richmond Man Killed by Automobile

Harry Metz, a former resident of Richmond, was instantly killed Saturday morning at 11 o'clock while crossing Telegraph avenue at Sixteenth, Oakland, being run down by a machine.

Metz was a brother of Mrs. J. H. Plate of Richmond.

Small Blaze

A two-story frame building, a bakery at 134 Washington, caught fire from an overheated oven Tuesday. Damage to the building and contents amounted to $500. The fire department soon had the blaze under control.

Will Crab No More

C. B. Oberland says he will "crab" no more, as $25 for 7-inch crabs is more than he can pay, even if the meat guarantee continues.

PALM LEAVES 50 FEET LONG

Trees of the palm family have larger leaves than any other. The Jamaican palm, which grows on the banks of the Amazon, has leaves which reach a length of from 30 to 50 feet and are 10 or 12 feet in breadth.

Specimens of the leaves of the Talipot palm, a native of Ceylon, have been met with that were 30 feet long and 19 feet broad. These leaves are used by the natives to make tents and form very efficient shelters from rain.

The leaves of the double coconut palm are often 30 feet long and several feet wide, according to the Detroit News. When the wind is strong they clasp together with a noise that may be heard at a great distance. Only one leaf is produced each year and they are so firmly attached to the stem of the tree and so strong in themselves that a man may sit on the end of one and suck to and fro in perfect safety.

GATEWAY TO SAHARA ITALIAN

Tripoli is now under Italian rule and is called the "Gateway to the Sahara," and the caravan trade to and from the city through the desert is enormous. All goods are transported by baggage camels, called in Tripoli jamales, writes Capt. Beverly Giddings in Adventure. Ivory, ostrich feathers, gum arabic, cloth from the Kano dye pits, rhino horns, leather, etc., are brought in in great quantities from various parts of central Africa.

The Sahara is peopled by several very fierce tribes called Tuaregs, who levy upon the caravans enormous taxes as tribute for safe conduct of the caravans through the desert. Nor does this suffice—more times than are pleasant the caravans are raided, the personnel killed or captured and all goods and animals taken.

A GREAT SAVING

"But, look here, the house is so beastly damp!"

"Ah, you'll find that a great saving, sir. (You don't have to have those houses insured against fire!)"

One of the Discoverers of Richmond Looks Us Over

R. T. Thompson of Los Angeles, was in Richmond Monday counting the improvements. He came to Richmond when it was first "discovered," about 25 years ago. He saw the first issue of The Terminal newspaper printed in the Santa Fe tract, and was offered 30 acres in Richmond's new business district for a "song." It was prairie and tules and "didn't look good" to him, he said.

Mr. Thompson is a capitalist, and says the eastbay is attracting many investors from Los Angeles and the south, where the terrible drought is driving them out. He says capital is now seeking the more substantial security of the bay region.

Devine Penalized

Robert Devine of Berkeley, and formerly of Richmond, has been placed on the retired pension list by the Pullman company after twenty years of service. He was chief clerk in the manager's office.

FIRST SUBWAY UNDER LONDON

Features of "The Drain," as the Underground Was Called by Britons.

In October, 1860, London's first underground railway was approaching completion, but it was not until Jan. 10, 1863, that the first passenger train ran. Enormous difficulties were experienced during construction.

The third-class passengers traveled in trucks, but the first-class carriages were lofty and comfortable. The carriages had no windows, and were lighted by gas. They were high enough to allow a tall man to stand wearing his silk hat, says London Tit-Bits.

Sir William Hardman, in "A Mid-Victorian Peep" (Cecil Palmer), describes the first time he took his wife to visit "The Drain," as the new underground was called. "It goes very smoothly and rapidly," he writes; "it feels very safe and quiet. I am spirited away to Baywater before I know we have started. The only difficulty is not to pass your station, for the stations are all precisely alike, without any distinctive features of surrounding streets or country to guide you, and if you are not carefully looking out you are carried farther than you intended to go."

ALL COULD RIDE IN MOTORS

There are enough automobiles in the United States to carry every man, woman and child at one time. With some 13,000,000 cars registered, including buses and trucks, this would mean only about eight persons to each automobile.

The average price of an automobile today, about $750—brings the ownership of a car within the income of almost every family. In 1922 more than 2,500,000 cars were manufactured, and the 1923 production was close to 4,000,000. January, 1924, sees the automobile industry the largest in the country. And, writes H. Clifford Brokaw in the Popular Science Monthly, there is no such thing as a "best car on the market." It is safe to say that practically every standard 1924 model is reasonably near in value to the price set on it.

BETTER NEVER THAN LATE

"Have you played the piano very long?"

"Oh, yes, ever since I was able to walk."

"Huh! Perhaps you started to walk rather late."

It was in THE TERMINAL.

National Debt Assumes Gigantic Proportions

Beautiful College City Homes Rebuilt Again

Berkeley, February 28.—The fire area in this city is being rapidly reclaimed. There are now 68 new buildings, 29 of which are apartments, erected. The total value of the improvements is approximately $1,141,000.

The houses are all well-constructed, high-class buildings, 39 of the residences averaging $14,000 each.

The buildings are nearly all stucco finish and the roofs are being made as near fire resistant as possible, slate, tile and asbestos shingles being used. Many homes are being built on the old foundations.

General Comment

Secretary Mellon has two objects—to reduce taxes and to increase prosperity. If he can accomplish this, in addition to reducing expenses, there will be no objections raised.

There is no better advertisement for any community, state or nation, than a record of employment and industrial activity. Steady payrolls mean contented people. Let each of us do our part to maintain such a condition.

It is reported that the consumption of beer in England has dropped off one-fourth in the past 25 years. It is not stated what the "substitute" is.

If it don't rain in March Southern California will march—northward bound. They're coming now in single file and platoons.

In examining the stomach of a victim of bootleg alcohol poisoning at an Eastbay clinic, it was discovered that the esophagus, or canal through which food passes into the stomach, was perforated and resembled the kitchen implement used for grating horseradish. The "victim" is probably drinking better stuff where he is now.

LOVE IS BLIND

"Reginald, dear," said the pretty girl, "do try to be cheerful. I know it will come all right. Mama, at least, is on our side."

"How do you know?" asked the disconsolate Reginald.

"Why, dear, I heard her tell papa not to judge you too much by appearances."

THROWN OUT

Bobbie—Did the angels send the baby from heaven?

His Pa—Yes, Bobbie. Wasn't that nice?

Bobbie—Nice for the angels. I suppose he got to be such a nuisance they couldn't stand for him any longer.

Among the witnesses summoned is Miss Florence Wilmeyer, former normal school student and former public school teacher, who was mentioned several times in Tompkins' "Inspiration."

Everyone Owes $283 Including Our Children

Washington, Feb. 29.—The public debt of the entire country aggregates $32,786,715,000, or more than three quarters times what it was in 1912. If the debt was divided equally, it would mean that every man, woman and child owes $283.

Annual interest charges on this huge sum amounts to $1,311,468,600 or $12.06 a year for every man, woman and child.

Because of the war, the nation's indebtedness has increased 672 per cent in 10 years.

Kitchen Improvements Surprise English Woman

The American kitchen is the result of electric power, gas and telephone development, the greatest labor saviors the world has to-day.

ONLY A MEMORY

"Mother!"

"Yes, my child?"

"What is a petticoat?"

But mother, a married sapper in knickerbockers, didn't know. So they went to grandma. "Yes, indeed," said the dear old lady, "I remember the petticoat. It was a quaint garment that ladies wore when grandma was a tiny girl."

ROUND AND ROUND

An old farmer, whose life journey had never taken him far from home encountered a merry-go-round on his way from market, and, feeling he would like to try the latest form of locomotion, mounted one of the wooden horses.

"I'm afraid this thing is a swindle," he remarked at the end of half an hour. "They keep coming round for money and yet my old farm isn't even in sight yet."

QUITE A PROPHECY

A gentleman in a restaurant asked the waiter for some pumpkin pie. The waiter was efficient enough, but did not speak English very well. He repeated the order.

"You wanta punk pie?"

"Pumpkin pie."

"I soso. Punk pie."

"Have it your own way," said the guest. "That's probably what I will get."

ANSWERED

TERRIFIC SANDSTORM SWEPTS SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

NATIONAL ORANGE SHOW HARD HIT BY WIND

Executive Injured and Tent Levelled With $200,000 Loss—48-Hour Gale Slows Railroad Traffic and Demoralizes Communication.

Los Angeles.—A terrific sandstorm which swept southern California with a force velocity for forty-eight hours blew down a tent at the National Orange show at San Bernardino, causing damage of more than $200,000, injured Lyman Rich, assistant manager of the show and paralyzed traffic in this section. High winds blew down telephone poles near Redlands, wrecked the valley and foothill boulevards by heaping great masses of sand upon them and stalled scores of automobiles.

Railway trains in the storm area were slowed to four or five miles an hour. Extra gangs were pressed into service on all lines to resist the onslaught of sanddunes, which moved toward the tracks. A string of thirty telegraph poles was blown down in this vicinity.

Hundreds of automobiles were stalled on highways in San Bernardino county. Occupants of the machines were forced to find refuge in neighboring houses. At Ontario it was reported 100 cars were trapped. San Bernardino police prevented hundreds from being stranded by refusing them permission to venture into the storm area. Many persons on their way to the orange show were unable to get through, or return to their homes. Sunday was to have been the most important day at the orange show, but the accident to the tent and the fierce windstorm prevented the crowd from attending.

WEALTHY LADI MEN VICTIMS OF GET-RICH-QUICK BUBBLE

Lodi.—Two glib, young stock salesmen from Los Angeles, who worked upon Lodi's wealthiest inhabitants, sold them shares in a motor car company and livestock investment company of Los Angeles at $10 with a verbal guarantee that it would go to $15, took their notes, discounted them and departed. According to the losers, they assured their "prospects" that the stock in 90 days would advance $5 per share, and that they asked for no cash but would gladly take 90-day notes, bearing interest at 4 per cent. In payment, they were rewarded with a harvest of miserable paper.

As a result, more than fifteen citizens of previous affluence are facing financial stringency. Involved to amounts ranging from $45,000 to $5,000 each. And they have been told that there is no legal redress, that the whole scheme was within the law.

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES YIELD $50,000 WORTH OF DOPE

San Francisco.—Illicit narcotics valued by the police at $50,000 were found by detectives when they opened safe deposit boxes in the Anglo-California branch bank at Market and Jones streets, said to have been rented by Ralph Brightman, former Seattle policeman, who is one of twelve alleged members of a huge crime ring, under arrest here and in Los Angeles. The key was discovered in a safe deposit box in the same bank where $40,000 and $10,000 in jewels were recovered.

Parker B. Millsack, one of the bandit suspects, said by detectives to be one of the men caught boozing and smoking at Monterey in June, 1922, and acquitted by a jury, said the narcotics were owned by Brightman, whose principal connection with the ring was peddling dope on a wholesale scale.

EGYPTIAN OFFICIALS FORCE WAY INTO LOCKED TOMB OF KING

Luxor.—With chains, crowbars and hammers, the Egyptian authorities have broken into the tomb of King Tutankhamen, which was locked by Howard Carter, when he was forced to stop work by order of the government. After awaiting vainly for Carter to appear and open the tomb, officials began an inventory of the contents, after which the tomb will be opened to the public.

Two claims have been filed by Carter in the mixed court. He seeks to have himself appointed trustee for the tomb and to secure the right of further exploration without interference by the government.

Scandal Laid to Barbons

Washington.—Responsibility for the policy under which Secretary Denby turned over government oil lands to the Sinclair interests rests entirely upon the Wilson administration, the Republican national committee has declared in a statement.

PROBLEMS OF HIGHWAY FINANCING REVIEWED

State Highway Commission Believes It a Problem Which Must Soon Engage Attention—Is Not Advocating Any Plan.

Sacramento.—In an effort to clarify discussion of highway financing and dispel the idea that the highway commission is putting forward its own plan of taxation for the purpose of increasing the department's revenues, a statement has been issued by the commission, which is, in part, as follows:

"The highways of the state belong to the people and must be paid for by the people. The time is not far distant when the problem of financing state highway construction in California must be met squarely and solved in accordance with sound business principles.

"Raising of revenue is not a function of the state highway commission. It is the business of the legislature and the people. The highway commission and the state highway engineer wish to say that they have not advocated, and are not now seeking, any particular scheme of taxation. We are not proposing any plan and have no plan to propose.

"The last legislature, realizing an inevitable situation, provided for the appointment of a special advisory committee to investigate the state highway situation and make recommendations to the 1925 session. The appointment of this committee was recently announced by the governor.

"The preparing of a financing plan for future state highway work is one of the principal duties of the committee. In view of the task to be undertaken by this advisory body, the commission and the state highway engineer have refrained from initiating or sponsoring any scheme for future financing.

"Members of the commission and the state highway engineer have been invited to discuss highway matters before various organizations.

"In such discussions, we have endeavored to state the problems to be met: The completion of the state highway system, and the necessity of financing a future outlay of at least $200,000,000. We have mentioned various ways by which this sum might be raised and have suggested the possibility of bond issues or increases in motor vehicle fees and the gasoline tax.

"These statements have been for the purpose of stimulating discussion and have not been in advocacy of any particular plan.

"At the present time state highway bonds are being exhausted. Funds available for primary construction, amounting to some $1,000,000, are in most part, federal aid funds accruing to the state from the federal government, as the state's share of the cost of co-operative projects already financed or underway.

"Maintenance and reconstruction funds are provided by the state's half of the motor vehicle fees and the gasoline tax. The other half goes to the counties. Funds from this source, under present laws, for many years, will be required for imperative reconstruction work.

"The state's share of motor vehicle fees and gasoline tax funds cannot be used for new construction, and when federal aid funds are exhausted, primary construction will stop unless additional funds from some source are provided.

"State highway bonds sold to date total $70,000,000. It will be 1925 before the state completes payment of the interest and principal on these bonds, and the ultimate total cost to the people will be some $150,000,000. The peak of annual payments on these bonds will be reached within the next two or three years when it will amount to approximately $5,000,000. It will then decrease gradually to 1945.

Headless Menace Hikers

Mill Valley.—A gang of San Francisco hoodlums for several hours terrorized holiday hikers in Mill Valley. They disappeared when Marshall F. L. Heasted of Mill Valley and armed deputy sheriffs arrived. The gangsters escaped, except one intoxicated man. He was placed in the Mill Valley jail. John Goodale, high school boy of Sausalito, was dragged from his automobile and beaten. One woman was cut when struck over the head with a bottle.

CALIFORNIA NEWS BRIEFS

Action by both civic and religious forces to end Chinese tong activities, at the meeting of some 200 tong leaders from eighty-one cities of the United States and Canada, in Fresno, in March, is urged by the American Missionary association. It is asked that federal and municipal officers and representatives of religious and civic organizations "make positive and definite representations to these men that neither the Chinese nor American will longer tolerate the frequent bloody struggles between these outlaw organizations."

Tentative negotiations for an increased tariff of 50 per cent or more on imported tea have been launched by the California Peach and Fig Growers, Inc., in Washington. A skull found by three boy trappers on the Klamath prairie country led to the discovery that identified the remains of Irwin Hill, a lad who disappeared from Eureka in May, 1919. At a lonely spot in the woods of the Mad river country the coroner gathered up human bones, a few pieces of clothing and a knife marked "W. H."

The boy is believed to have come from the same place as his companion, lost and then killed beside his campfire by wild animals. His last sleep was within a mile of a ranchhouse and safety.

The romance of the Mount Diablo region a century ago is recalled by the offering for sale of the Castro Adobe villa at El Cerrito in Contra Costa county, which was built by Francisco Castro, one of the two original immigrants, who took land grants at the foot of Mount Diablo, in 1823. The other man was Ignacio Martinez, for whom the town Martinez was named. Contra Costa was the scene of the first settlements in that part of California.

Suspected of membership in a bank robber gang operating in San Francisco and Los Angeles, Parker Millsack of Los Angeles and Leo Slaco of San Francisco were arrested at the latter place in the Sunset street apartment of Miss Cherrie Harris. Movement of California dried fruits has been progressing at such a satisfactory pace that the market is expected to be in excellent shape when the 1924 pack is ready for distribution. Sale of 25,000,000 pounds of prunes and 8,000,000 pounds of apricots in the last six weeks has done much to relieve the worry over the 1923 crop carry-over.

STATE LETTER

Replies to letters sent out some months ago to county auditors, requesting county tax rates show, either that the rate in 1923 decreased or remained stationary in the majority of instances. The controller's office, by assembling and totaling tax levies of the various counties, gives the following information: The tax levies of the counties of the state in 1923 totaled $147,243,319.52. In 1922 the levies totaled $132,945,653.78. The total increase for 1923 over 1922 was $14,297,665.74. In 1922 the average tax rate was $1.75 on the $100 valuation. The average rate for 1923 remains the same. Total property valuations in 1922 were $4,826,982,046. Total property valuations in 1923 were $5,415,001,445, or a gain in 1923 over 1922 of $588,019,399. Valuations increased almost 11 per cent in 1923, and county taxes increased slightly more than 11 per cent over the same period.

The steady advance in population in the larger cities has been largely responsible for the total increase of $14,297,665.74 in county government.

An advisory board of well known and qualified citizens, together with the labor commissioner, will hereafter pass upon the adequacy of the courses offered by trade, theatrical and movie schools and only those which are able to satisfy the advisory board as to the adequacy and completeness of their courses will secure a license from the labor bureau.

As a result of investigations by the labor bureau, some arrests have been made, resulting in two convictions. Other trade and movie schools have consented to abide by the state law and to take out licenses from the labor bureau. The money obtained from movie job seekers will be refunded to them through the office of the labor commissioner.

The final apportionment of state school funds for the 1923-24 school year gives the elementary schools $4,262,484.69 and high schools $3,057,364.24. The September apportionment gave elementary schools $10,377,000 and secondary schools $707,850. Total apportionment for elementary schools for the year is $14,639,484.69, an increase of $864,264.69 over the apportionment for 1922-1923. The total high school apportionment is $3,765,214.24, an average daily attendance of 125,522; an increase of $459,132.30 in apportionment and of 15,122, or 14 per cent, in average daily attendance.

The average daily attendance of the elementary schools was 488,051; an increase of 23,727 or 4.85 per cent over last year.

Holding that in these days the public has no means of knowing what the title of "Dr." may signify, the medical board has taken up the problem in the hope of paving the way for remedial legislative action. The board suggests a law refusing further legal recognition of the term "Doctor" in California and providing for substitution of authorized professional degrees. Under this plan holders would be designated as follows: Doctor of Medicine, MD; Doctor of Osteopathy, DO; Doctor of Dental Surgery, DDS; Doctor of Naturopathy, ND; Christian Science Practitioner, CSR.

California ranks twenty-ninth among the states in the percentage of state and local expenditures going to education, spending 26.7 per cent of all state and local taxes for the support of the schools. The report should set at rest the statement that the California schools are the most expensively conducted schools in the country," says Superintendent Wood.

"California has treated the elementary and high school generously. But twenty-eight states give a larger share of public funds to public education."

The state railroad commission has directed an inquiry to all companies producing hydro-electric energy as to the probable measurements and probable production of hydro-electric energy for the coming year, with a view to working out a plan of co-operation between various hydro-electric power companies of the state, in case the present water shortage continues, in which event many districts will be short of water during late summer months for operation of their electric plants.

For Sale: One Egg, $5,000

It's a Dinosaur's and Guaranteed to be 10,000,000 Years Old

By JOHN DICKINSON SHERMAN

ONE EGG—One egg, $5,000! This is not an advertisement—just a plain statement of fact, which gives the lie to the time-worn saying that there is nothing new under the sun. For this one egg is the egg of a dinosaur. And that's something new, inasmuch as civilized man never saw one before.

And this dinosaur's egg, instead of being graded extra, or fresh first, or ordinary first, or even dirty, is guaranteed to be at least 10,000,000 years old. Incidentally, it's a hot-storage egg and cold-storage. Of course, dinosaur eggs are nothing new, but here's one with the reverse English on it. And that's new.

And this egg, though fossilized and solid rock, is cherished as a nest egg which again is something new.

Moreover, you may have to pay considerably more than $5,000 for this one egg. The cheap who wants it most and has the longest purse is the fellow who is most apt to get it. And then he'll have something new.

In 1924, a small dinosaur's egg was brought to America with others from Mongolia by the Third Asiatic expedition. It is for sale at an unheard-of price of $5,000, the money to form the nest egg of a fund to finance a fourth expedition, planned in the hope of finding the fossil remains of the very earliest man.

The leader of this Third Asiatic expedition was Prof. Roy Chapman Andrews, curator-in-chief of the division of exploration and research of the American Museum of Natural History, who on two previous expeditions to Mongolia had made important discoveries. It was financed by the museum, the American Asiatic association and Asia Magazine.

In 1923, a depression in the Gobi desert of Mongolia, a thousand miles or more from Peking and about thirty miles from the Altai mountains. Here is a hole of a dozen miles or so across in a smooth plain, its edges a vast complex of "bad lands." It was reached last July by a 400-mile journey by motorcar across a desert, supplies being carried by camels. Professor Andrews writes thus in part in Asia Magazine of the discovery of the egg:

"Our real thrill came on the second day, when George Olson reported at dawn that he was sure he had found fossil eggs. We looked him a good deal, but nevertheless all of us were curious enough to walk down with him after luncheon. Then our indignation and jealousy were aroused for we realized that we were looking at the first dinosaur egg ever seen by a human being. That they must be those of a dinosaur we felt certain. True enough, it never was known before that dinosaurs did lay eggs, but, since most modern reptiles are oviparous, it was considered probable that their ancient ancestors followed this method of reproduction. Nevertheless, although hundreds of skulls and skeletons of dinosaurs had been discovered in vari-

These eggs could not be those of a bird. No birds are known from the Lower Cretaceous geological horizon in which the eggs were found, and all the Jurassic and Upper Cretaceous birds were much too small to have laid eggs of this size. The elongate shape of the eggs is distinctly reptilian. A bird's egg usually is much larger at one end than at the other, because it is deposited in a nest from which it might roll out unless it is tapered at its point. Reptile eggs, which often are buried in the earth or sand, usually are elongate and similar in shape to the specimens that we found. These eggs were in a great heap full of dinosaur skeletons and containing as far as we could discover, no remains of other animals or of birds.

"Three of the eggs lay in a cluster and evidently were in the exact spot where they had been deposited by the dinosaur. The broken shells of several others were partially imbedded in the rock. Just under a low sandstone shelf, beside which they were lying, we could see the projecting ends of two others. While all the members of the expedition were on their hands and knees about these ten-million-year-old eggs, George Olson began to scrape away the loose rock on the summit of the shelf, and to our amazement he uncovered the skeleton of a small dinosaur, lying right at ten inches above the eggs. Was it the reptile that had laid the eggs, or was it a predatory dinosaur that had come to feed upon them?"

"The preservation is beautiful. Some of the eggs have been crushed, but the pebbled surface of the shells is as perfect as if the eggs had been laid yesterday instead of ten million years ago. The shells are about one-fourth of an inch thick, and probably were hard, and not membranous. The land has slipped through breaks, and the interior of all the eggs is solid sandstone. In the photographs the bits of broken shell partially imbedded in the rock are plainly to be seen, and it needs no stretch of imagination to realize that the objects pictured are really eggs."

To prevent disaster from the tent of the waters, the king of Amman directed his subjects to tattoo their bodies with images of sea monsters—afterward, with dragons and crocodiles.

Dropped First Name. It is a curious fact that three of the most illustrious presidents of the United States deliberately dropped the first of their baptismal names when they came to Washington—Stephen Grover Cleveland became Grover Cleveland.

Thomas Woodrow Wilson became Woodrow Wilson, and John Calvin Coolidge became Calvin Coolidge. It took something more than dropping a first name to make these men presidents, but it was an American tradition.

Although we think of the first of the first names of our presidents as being dropped, it is not so. The first names of our presidents have never been dropped. The first names of our presidents have never been dropped.

75% of disease avoided through internal cleanliness

WHY run the risk of sickness? Keep clean internally. When you are constipated, poisons form in the accumulated food waste. These poisons, absorbed by the blood, attack all parts of the body. The first results, headache, biliousness, a feeling of "heaviness," etc., serve as warnings of a graver danger. If this intestinal poisoning continues unchecked, you become the victim of some serious organic disease.

This is why intestinal specialists state that constipation is the primary cause of three-quarters of all illness, including the gravest diseases of life.

Laxatives Aggravate Constipation
Laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, says a noted authority, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition and often lead to permanent injury.

Why Physicians Favor Lubrication
Medical science, through knowledge of the intestinal tract gained by X-ray observation, has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Thus Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Not a Medicine
Nujol is used in leading hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot grip. Like pure water it is harmless.

Get rid of constipation and avoid disease by adopting the habit of internal cleanliness. Take Nujol as regularly as you brush your teeth or wash your face. For sale by all druggists.
